Marital mend

IT looks like Billy Baldwin and Chynna Phillips have made progress mending their 14-year marriage. The couple, who have three kids, had dinner with a group including Lizzie Grubman and Simon Rex (a.k.a. Dirt Nasty) at Boathouse in East Hampton Sunday. "They look like they are all made up," said an onlooker. Phillips filed for divorce in March but withdrew the papers days later. Also in the Hamptons was Billy's brother, Alec Baldwin, who dined at Bamboo with "30 Rock" and "Saturday Night Live" producer Marci Klein.

Nick Cannon and Mariah Carey's Pups Love to Doggie Paddle

Melting in the summer heat? Mariah Carey and Nick Cannon's four dogs know exactly how to keep cool.

"They love to swim ... every day. They're swimming dogs," Cannon told PEOPLEPets.com on July 4. "Every time you open the door, they just run and jump in the pool. And stay in there literally for hours ... stay in there, swimming in the pool."

The couple's quartet of Jack Russell terriers — Jay Jay, Cha Cha, Dolomite and newest pup Jackie Lambchops — get along swimmingly, too.

"They all get along, they're a family," the America's Got Talent host told PEOPLE after his two-hour set spinning at Eldridge East at Bamboo in East Hampton, N.Y.

Each of his pups has a role in that family — although Jackie Lambchops is so new (born last month) Cannon hasn't yet figured out her personality.

"Jay Jay is very obedient. He's the father, he acts like the father figure," Cannon explains. "Dolomite, the son, he's crazy. Cha Cha's the diva. She's just like Mariah."

CELEBRITY SCOOP: FOURTH OF JULY WEEKEND

Nick Cannon never sits still. The entertainment energizer bunny (who splits his time between acting, hosting and producing TV shows, managing singers/rappers, and heading Teen Nick) found a few hours in his busy schedule to spin records at the launch of The Eldridge East at Bamboo on July 3, 2010 in East Hampton, New York.

GOSSIP PACK: HAMPTONS EDITION

• While most Americans were enduring family-bonding sessions in more wholesome seaside locales over the weekend, a host of demi-celebrities were chipping away at their name-recognition deficits on the Hamptons club scene. At AXE Lounge, in Southampton, Matthew Settle (known to tweens and Nymag.com readers alike as Rufus from Gossip Girl) was doing whatever it is one does when one is the best-known person at a nightclub, and Nick Cannon (known to Mariah Carey completists as "D.J. Sex Fingers ") took control of the proverbial ones and twos at Matt Levine's Bamboo Lounge, in East Hampton. [Amy Grindhouse]

HAMPTONS NIGHTLIFE

The Eldridge Heads Out East

The Boathouse is great and all but it's not The Eldridge. Matt Levine realized this and he has brought the Eldridge to the Hamptons. Guess what it's called. Just guess. Okay I'll tell you, The Eldridge East.

He has taken over Bamboo (47 Montauk Highway) and has a pretty dope lineup this weekend. Saturday you've got DJ Jus Ske and DJ Equal along with a special DJ set by Nick Cannon. Sunday you've got DJ Reach along with DJ Francesco Civetta and a live performance by Dirt Nasty. Shout out to Kelly Brady who will be celebrating her birthday that night as well.

The Eldridge is my #1 spot in the city and I'm glad I'll have a place to call home out East.

East Hampton Hotspots: The Eldridge East And The Boathouse

Matt Levine is running two properties out East. He's had The Boathouse and as of this past weekend, he now has The Eldridge East at Bamboo. After going to both, I figured I'd weigh in.

The Boathouse: First of all The Boathouse is FAR. And I mean really far. I went out there a few weekends ago, courtesy of Kevin Rudolph, to hear him play a few songs. (His album is awesome, you should buy it by the way.) I didn't have a chance to taste much of the food, but the hamachi was DELICIOUS.

DJ Price was on the decks so the music was great, but the space wasn't conducive to a late night party. The Boathouse is a great size for a restaurant, but large for a lounge. They had two of the three rooms open, plus the bar and the place never really felt full. Hopefully they'll have the late night party in the first room only. It would definitely help thee vibe of the place.

This past weekend Billy Baldwin and his wife Chynna Phillips dined in the restaurant as did Cypress Hill who did an impromptu performance.

The Eldridge East: is just like The Eldridge. Small friends and family door and random celebs in the booth. I went on Saturday to check out DJ Equal and Nick Cannon. Nick should have gone first because Equal is the man. That is all I'm going to say about that. It was hot as hell in there and I never got any of the sushi that kept coming out, but the crowd seemed to be enjoying themselves.

I am angry I missed Sunday night because not only was it Kelly Brady's birthday, but Dirt Nasty performed and I am obsessed with him. My favorite Baldwin, Alec, also, stopped by to hang out and catch DJ Francesco Civetta and DJ Reach.

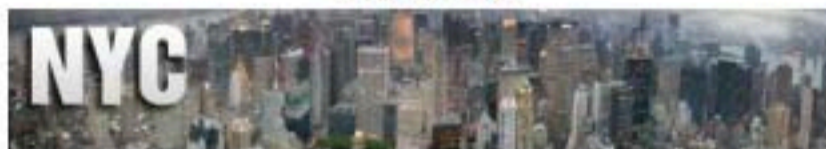

All in all these are definitely two options if you're looking for a grown and sexy crowd. You can't run around like a mad person at RdV East every weekend.
